

COLLEGE

Introduction

A college is an educational institution or part of it. A college can be a graduate institution, be part of a corporation or university organization, a vocational institution, or a high school. globally, a college can be a high school or high school, a college of further education, a training centre that awards a business degree, a tertiary provider without a university status (usually without a degree), or a part of a university.The increasing number of higher education enrollments is one of the strongest factors in the acceptance of higher education tools and services in the regions. Factors such as the growing international student movement and government initiatives and funding are expected to create ample opportunities for higher education vendors. With the advent of globalization and the increasing number of students going to different countries for educational purposes, it is expected to create great opportunities for higher education providers. India holds a leading position in global education. India is also one of the largest networks of higher education institutions in the world. However, there is still a lot of potential for further development in the education system.

Market Potential

India has the largest population in the world in the age group of $5-24$ with 500 million, which provides an excellent opportunity for the education sector. The education sector in India is estimated at US $ 91.7 billion in fiscal year and is expected to reach US $ 101.1 billion in fiscal year. The number of 19 colleges in India has reached 39,931. The number of universities in India reached 967 in FY21 (as of December 2020). 37.4 million students are enrolled in higher education in the Indian financial year. The overall enrollment rate in higher education reached $26.3 \%$ in the financial year. In 2020-21, there were a total of 9,700 AICTE accredited companies. In total, there were 4,100 undergraduate, 4,951 postgraduate and 4,514 diploma courses in AICTE accredited institutions. According to the National Institutional Rankings Framework, major Indian technology companies have secured 7 places in the top 10 corporate rankings by 2020. The country has become the second largest market for e-learning after the United States. The sector is expected to reach $$ 1.96$ billion by 2021 with approximately 9.5 million users. In India, the online education market is projected to reach $$ 11.6$ billion by 2026 .

China, India and South Korea are expected to have the highest number of students, according to a report released by the British Council. This huge traffic flow is expected to create enormous opportunities for higher education solution vendors as companies will have to manage this large amount of data, which will open up new revenue for higher education.
